You are a total of __ _____ and __ _____ which mean:

Completely Negative (6 of 6)

This quality has 3 water and 3 earth signs in their chart which are the melancholic, contemplative, pensive, meditative, solemn, heavy-hearted, pessimistic and “negative natured” characteristics which have much to do with their still and reactive aura of their water element, and the solid and reactive aura of their earth element.

This quality’s melancholic nature exude through their conversation, their body language, their aura, and the way that they carry themselves-even when they are feeling sanguine-like; as they are never (naturally) sanguine natured.

Because this person is all water and earth, their melancholic “way” is present-passively or at times (because of their “negative nature”) passive-aggressively, especially when they are feeling melancholic (their true nature).

Earth and water people have a way of magnetically drawing you to them; sharing their still and solid worlds with you.

Water quality can lure you into its calm and stillness. They can and will drown you, absorb you into or introduce you to almost every emotion they are feeling especially during their natural melancholic state.

Earth quality can lure you into its solidity. They are deliberate and steadfast but can stubbornly resist almost everything especially during their natural melancholic state.

Completely Positive (6 of 6)

This quality has 3 air and 3 fire signs in their chart, which are the sanguine, foot-loose and fancy free, light hearted, optimistic and “positive natured” qualities which have much to do with the active and stirring winds of their air element, and much like the active and blazing flame of their fire element.

This quality’s sanguine nature exude through their conversation, their body language, their aura, and the way that they carry themselves-even when they are feeling melancholic-like, as they are never (naturally) melancholic natured.

Because this person is all air and fire, their sanguine “way” is present aggressively (because of their “positive nature”) especially when they are feeling sanguine-like (their true nature).

Fire and air people can incite these same qualities in those around them (especially other air and fire-natured people).

Air quality can wisp you into their free-flowing and uncontainable world.

Fire quality is inciting and can press upon you, their turbulent and wildfire way.
